What you need to know about the Audi Q5 2020

The 2020 Audi Q5 is a popular luxury compact SUV that comes with a variety of engine options, body styles, and features to meet the diverse needs of consumers. Here's a comparison of the different engines, body styles and other specifications for this model and year:

Engines:

- The base engine is a 2.0-litre turbocharged four-cylinder engine that produces 248 horsepower and 273 lb-ft of torque. This engine provides a good balance of power and fuel efficiency, with an EPA-estimated 22/28 city/highway MPG.
- The updated engine is a 3.0-litre turbocharged V6 that is equipped with a 48-volt hybrid system and produces 349 horsepower and 369 lb-ft of torque. It delivers more power and better acceleration, and is rated at 19/24 mpg city/highway according to EPA estimates.

Body types:

- The Q5 is available in two different body styles: the standard Q5 and the sportier Q5 Sportback. The rear end of the traditional Q5 is more upright and the loadspace is larger, making it easier to load. On the other hand, the Sportback has a lower roofline, which gives the SUV a coupe-like appearance. As a result, the Sportback's cargo space is compact, with only 24.7 cubic feet available behind the rear seats compared to 25.1 cubic feet in the Q5.

Other characteristics:

- Both Q5 models come with all-wheel drive, a seven-speed dual-clutch automatic transmission and a comfortable ride thanks to the adaptive suspension as standard.
- The Q5 has a luxurious and tech-savvy interior with Apple CarPlay, Android Auto, in-car Wi-Fi, wireless device charging and a 10.1-inch touchscreen display.
- Safety features include automatic emergency braking, blind spot monitoring, lane keeping assist and rear cross traffic alert.

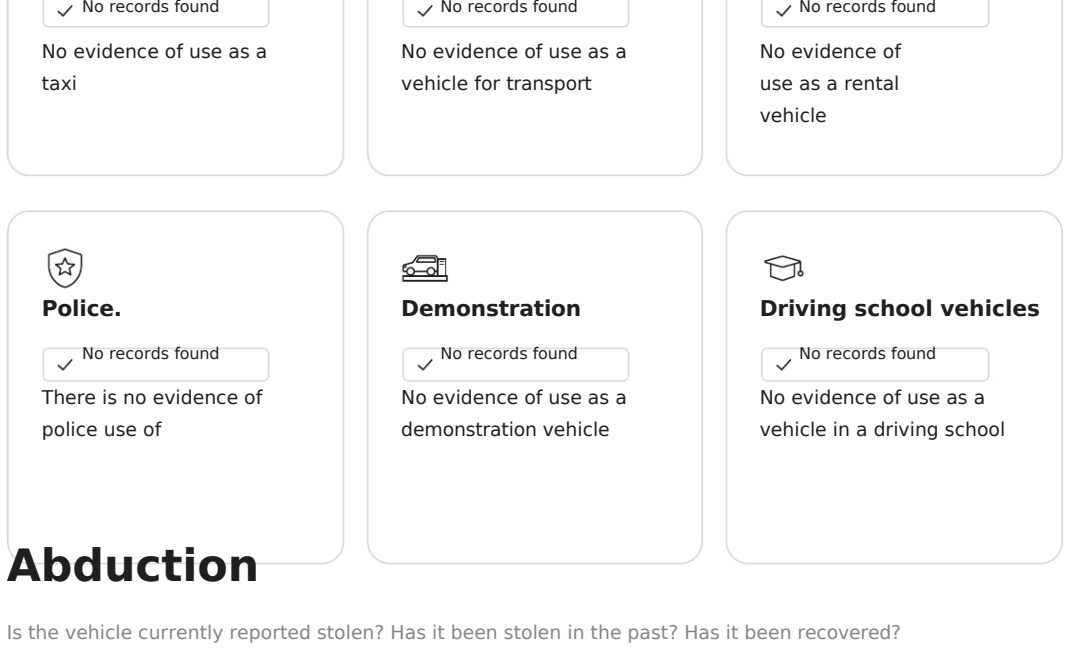

In conclusion, the 2020 Audi Q5 offers a range of engine and body styles to suit different consumer preferences. The base engine of the Q5 is economical and powerful enough, while the 3.0-litre V6 engine provides stronger acceleration. The traditional Q5 has more cargo space, while the sportier Q5 Sportback has a sleek and stylish appearance. Overall, the Q5 is a well-rounded SUV that combines performance and luxury.
